

PRIVACY POLICY

E Innovation UK is committed to protecting the privacy and personal information when you use our website or communicate with us electronically. This policy provides details of how we may deal with any of the personal data collected. We may from occasionally make changes to this policy or upload a newer version to our website it, therefore we recommend that you read it regularly to ensure you are aware of the revised version. This policy, together with our terms and conditions provides you with details about the use of our company website and the data collected.

Information Collected

When you interact with E Innovation UK we may receive or collect personal data from you. This information, including the use of cookies will be:

- Your visits and use of our website
- Information provided by you when you communicate with us for any reason
- Information provided for any business purposes.

We may collect information when you visit our website including location, browser, IP address, traffic source, number of page visits, and length of visit.

Use of Cookies

A cookie enables the web server to identify and track the web browser by sending a text file.

E Innovation UK uses cookies on its website, the company may store this information gathered from cookies to provide statistical data regarding the use of our website. This data will not identify a person individually, it is purely statistical to help improve our website, marketing and the services we provide to you.

All computer devices have the ability to decline cookies on their browser settings, please be aware that if you choose to do this it may affect the usability of many websites.

Use of Personal Information

Data that is provided to us through our website or electronic communications may be stored by E Innovation UK on our secure server.

The data provided is used for the purposes specified in this policy and in addition may be used to:

- ☐ Supply you with information requested by you on our services,
- ☐ Provide you with details of updates on our products/services,
- ☐ Provide third parties with statistical information on the use of our website.

No third parties will be provided with any personal data or permitted to contact you unless you have given prior consent.

Please note, the transmission of information via the internet is not completely secure and therefore we cannot guarantee the security of the data sent to us and such data transmitted to us is entirely at your own risk. We may have third party links on our website and these companies should have their own privacy policy. Please read these as we have no responsibility or liabilities over our third party policies.

Disclosing Information

In addition to previous disclosures set out in this policy, we may be required to disclose information to third parties when:

- We are required to do so by law,
- In connection with any legal proceedings,
- For legal rights, including fraud protection and controlling credit risk.

Your Rights to Accessing Information

You have the right to request details of the personal information stored by the company of you. This information may require a fee to be paid in order for us to cover the costs of acquiring these details. If there are any questions relating to this policy, please do not hesitate to get in touch with us on any of the contact details provided on our website.